

Weddings at The Mustard Seed.

The Mustard Seed at Echo Lodge is a small, stylish country house situated in the rural village of Ballingarry, Co. Limerick. The exclusive, private atmosphere of the house and grounds make it the perfect venue for your special day.

From an intimate dinner for six to a lavish banquet for our maximum capacity of 75, you can be sure that your wedding day is unique. There is nothing standard about a wedding at The Mustard Seed. We do not offer wedding packages as each celebration is individual. With the complimentary service of one of our reception coordinators, your celebration is tailor made to suit your preferences and budget. Careful consideration is given to every detail. Owing to the size of the property, it is possible to make the Mustard Seed exclusively yours from the moment you arrive until its time to reluctantly check out the following morning.

On arrival at the Mustard Seed, following the wedding ceremony, you and your guests are greeted by a drinks reception of your choice and waiter service of canapés. Each season brings a unique atmosphere to the house. Summer sunshine and long evenings of daylight means guests can linger over seasonal cocktails on the front steps and on the lawn. In autumn and winter, the candles are lighting and hot ports and served by the glow of the fire. Either way the 12 acres of gardens and elegant interiors will provide the perfect backdrop to your photographs.

Following the drinks reception, the brass gong summons guests to the dining room for dinner. The menu will have been carefully chosen prior to the day and all dietary requirements are catered for. The restaurant is synonymous with award winning fine dining using the best of local produce and foods in season so you can indulge your guests in a memorable four course wedding feast.

We are happy to provide complimentary personalised menus for each guest. We also provide floral table arrangements using seasonal blooms from the garden; daffodils and tulips in spring time, sweet peas and roses in summer and winter arrangements of berries and gourds. You may bring more elaborate arrangements if you wish.

After dinner, the entrance hall is transformed into an open space suitable for a 'knees up' with a small musical group or simply a pianist. Due to the natural acoustics of the room, amplification is not necessary but we are happy to advise you on what works best. What is certain is that a great party will end your day on a high note! Guests who would prefer to have a quiet chat can do so in the library.

The morning after the celebration, normal service resumes with breakfast and a post mortem of the events.

Overnight accommodation in our 18 guestrooms is available for wedding guests. From €65 per person sharing for the smaller rooms, the bridal suite, standard, superior rooms and family accommodation are also available.

The Mustard Seed has been approved for civil marriage ceremonies which allows you to couple your ceremony with your celebrations without having to leave the venue.

If you are not familiar with The Mustard Seed it would be advisable for you to come for dinner prior to booking a date, to view first hand the facilities on offer.

If your dream wedding is within our capabilities, we would be delighted to discuss the options with you.
